

Hypothetical Transcript of John Doe's Deposition

Attorney: Good morning, Mr. Doe. Can you please state your full name for the record?

John Doe: Good morning. My name is John Doe.

Attorney: Mr. Doe, what is your current occupation?

John Doe: I was a machine operator at Naomi Industries until the incident.

Attorney: Can you describe the incident that occurred on March 15?

John Doe: Yes. I was operating the Compactor 5000 when it suddenly activated and trapped my arm.

Attorney: Were you aware of any issues with the Compactor 5000 before the incident?

John Doe: I had heard some rumors about malfunctions, but I never experienced any issues myself until that day.

Attorney: Did you receive training on how to safely operate the Compactor 5000?

John Doe: Yes, I underwent training when I was first hired, which was about two years ago.

Attorney: Were you aware of the company's safety protocols?

John Doe: Yes, but they weren't always strictly enforced.

Attorney: Had you ever reported any concerns about the machine?

John Doe: No, I didn't report anything because I hadn't had any problems with it.

Attorney: Did you notice if the machine had been maintained or inspected regularly?

John Doe: I'm not sure. I think it was inspected regularly, but I'm not involved in maintenance.

Attorney: Were you aware of any previous incidents involving the Compactor 5000?

John Doe: I heard about a couple of incidents after I started working there, but I don't have details.

Attorney: How has the injury affected your life?

John Doe: It has been devastating. I've lost my arm, and it's been a difficult adjustment.

Attorney: Thank you, Mr. Doe. That concludes our questions for now.
